PEP HYBRID

Instructions Provided and Assignments Monitoring Plan for PEP Students

Instruction for PEP Scholarship students will be provided that combines direct in-person instruction with guided independent study and virtual learning support. On the non-attendance days, students will attend classes two days per week on campus, with structured assignments and learning activities provided for completion.

In-Person Instruction (Two Days per Week)

1. Students will receive direct, small-group instruction in academic subjects including Language Arts, Math, Science, and Social Studies.
2. Teachers will introduce model skills and provide hands-on learning opportunities to reinforce comprehension.
3. According to their learning plan, classroom instruction will emphasize individualized support, ensuring each student receives guidance.

Independent Learning (Home-Based Instruction)

1. Students will complete assigned lessons, projects, and practice activities designed to reinforce classroom instruction on the days they are not in attendance.
2. Weekly assignments will be distributed to the student folders or online depending on grade level and parent preference.
3. Students and parents will have access to online instructional resources, including digital textbooks, recorded mini-lessons, and activities.

Assignment Monitoring and Feedback

1. Teachers will review all submitted assignments during in-person class days to assess progress and understanding.

2. Parents will serve as learning supporters at home, to help students remain engaged and complete their assignments.
3. Progress will be tracked through weekly assignment logs, teacher checklists, and assessment tools aligned with Florida academic standards.
4. Teachers will provide individualized feedback, additional instruction, or intervention as needed to support continuous learning.

Communication and Support

1. Regular communication will be maintained between teachers, parents, and students through email, phone calls, and parent-teacher meetings.
2. Teachers will hold weekly virtual office hours to provide clarification, tutoring, or additional academic support for PEP students.

This instructional structure ensures that PEP students receive consistent, high-quality instruction and that learning objectives are met with a two-day in-person schedule. The plan supports both accountability and flexibility, allowing students to achieve success in a nurturing, developmentally appropriate environment.
